

Business in Bollington is an informal group of self-employed people and small business owners based in and around Bollington.

As a business networking group, we're pretty informal. We meet once a month at The Poachers to share ideas, discuss issues that affect our businesses and support each other. It's relaxed, sociable and a great way to round off your day.

It's a good way to meet people too. We're a varied bunch that includes landscape gardeners, accountants, writers, IT and marketing folk, and just about everyone in between!

There are already lots of formal groups that meet in the area, so we thought we'd offer something FREE, friendly and fun. So, whether you want to tell us about your business, discuss entrepreneurial ideas or simply have a chat over a few drinks with like minded people, why not drop into our next meeting.

Everyone is welcome. So if you're new to the area, have just left the security of corporate life or would like the opportunity to meet up with other local business people, call Sue or Geoff on 01625 576456 or email us at words@shoutcopywriting.co.uk for further details.
